Responsibility

Cubs of Kindness

Fulfilling our duty to God, country, other people, and ourselves. Being responsible is being dependable and doing what you say you will do. Cub Scouts will have fun learning about responsibility while pretending to be on a campout.

PACK AND DEN IDEAS

*Invite a firefighter to come speak at your Pack meeting

*Tour fire station

*First aid/Safety Fair

*Fire safety obstacle course

*Service scavenger hunt

*Conservation projects

*Leave No Trace Award (adults too)

What is a Cub Scout supposed to be prepared for? "Be prepared for any old thing," replied Baden-Powell, the founder of Scouting, when asked that question. That's a tall order. Life holds a lot of surprises, and you Cub Scout probably won't be prepared for all of them. But in Scouting you're learning how to deal with most of them. You're prepared to help your family, give service to our community and the nation, help clean up our environment, and provide many other Good Turns for people. Preparing you for life is what Scouting is all about. Learn as much as you can, and you'll be ready to meet life's challenges.

RESPONSIBILITY OPENING

Prepare pictures that represent each of the 6 areas or simply make a word strip for each.

Cubmaster: During the month of October, the boys have been learning all about Responsibility – there are many ways to be responsible - and the boys are going to show you what they've learned.

Cub #1: "For Myself"- A Cub Scout must be responsible for himself – I can choose how I will act and how I treat other people.

Cub #2: "At Home"- A Cub Scout is responsible for doing his chores and being a good family member.

Cub #3: "At School"- I can be responsible to study and learn as much as I can, and to do my homework on time.

Cub #4: "In Scouts"- A Cub Scout can be responsible to obey Akela and help other boys in the Den and Pack.

Cub #5: "In My Community"- As Cub Scouts, we can help our community by doing things for other people and being good citizens.

Cub #6: "In the World" - As a Cub Scout, I am learning how to take care of the world by conserving water and energy and keeping the environment clean and healthy.

CM/MC: Well, boys, it sounds like you are learning how to become responsible and make good choices – Now I'd like you to show us how to honor the flag or our country.

Boys move into position and perform color guard ceremony
